In this tutorial we are going to take a look at the basics of typography and make a set of the best free serif fonts for web. You will learn the most basic but the most useful features of these serif fonts and what can you do with them. Finally, you will learn how to download and install these fonts on your computer. Step 1: Define the parameters and settings that you want to use. You have an empty canvas with 20 pixels of padding (margin) on all sides. You do not want to increase the default font-size because you want to keep the browser reading experience at the default text size, which is ~14px or 12px. A serif font is something which has a little bit of swishing or denting to the letters, just like the Adobe logo or most other types of fonts. So we need something like that. A serif font is a font with rounded serifs. The font we are going to use in this tutorial has a serif font (2nd from left) and it is a typeface. The first step is to check the settings you are going to use: The first thing you need to do is change your text color to white, like in the example above. Text color is one of the most important things that you should pay attention to in typography. It doesn't matter what color you choose as long as it is white, black or gray. But if you want to add more life to your text, you should change it to white. Once you have white text, you can start adding typography to your text. The next step is to add text. You can find all the text styles you want by selecting the text tool on the left, then click and move the mouse over the type of text you want to use. There will be a little info box that pops up saying "Type" or "Text" on the left side. In the text style menu, choose text, type or plain. After selecting the text tool, you will be able to choose the font and font-size settings you want. The font-size controls the amount of space your text takes up on the screen. Choose a font-size that is between 10 and 15 pixels. You can change the font, font-size, text-color and other settings 82157476af
